Welcome to Dulwich Festival

As we move forward from our big 30th anniversary celebrations last year, it is an absolute privilege to join the core team as Festival Director. Working with our wider community to fill places and spaces across Dulwich with arts and culture, I am also keen to consider what the next 30 years may bring.

This year promises another packed programme, with lots of festival favourites, from the ever-popular fairs to the enormous Artists' Open House programme and with multiple talks, walks, music and performance for all ages. There are a few surprises in the mix too, with new collaborations and creative partners to keep you on your toes, in some cases, quite literally! Book now for ticketed events and spot the FREE EVENT badge throughout this guide to discover activities that won't cost you a penny.

We'd love to hear more from our audiences this year; please do join us on social media, send us an email via the website, or fill in a quick survey with our wonderful volunteers to tell us how you'd like your festival to evolve in future years.

Sarah Taylor Dulwich Festival Director

We are delighted to again be the Principal Partner of the Dulwich Festival in its 31st year. As a local, independent agent, we are proud to be associated with initiatives like the Festival that play such an integral role in our community.

Dulwich Outdoor Gallery

Amongst the streets of Dulwich are some impressive murals, many of which are interpretations of 17th and 18th century paintings from Dulwich Picture Gallery. This project was founded by Ingrid Beazley FRSA (1950-2017) and artist Stik in 2012.

New murals have been commissioned and relocated, managed by Amanda Greatorex who guides our informative walks. We also include other community artworks en route through East Dulwich.

DULWICH PREP LONDON

Proud Partner of Dulwich Festival Artists' Open House

In 1885, Dulwich Prep London began with only 13 boys and quickly established an excellent reputation. Within just two years, the number of pupils increased to over a hundred. Today, the school is known as one of the country's leading and largest boys' preparatory schools.

This September marks a significant milestone as we deepen our commitment to boys' education by becoming Dulwich Prep & Senior. This expansion includes introducing a senior section and welcoming our first Year 9 pupils in September 2025, with boys being able to stay to the end of Year 11.

The arts are vital for cultural and societal enrichment. Ensuring children have access to these forms of expression is crucial for their development into engaged members of society. As educators, we take great pride and responsibility in ensuring artistic opportunities are available to our pupils.

In line with this commitment, we are thrilled to once again be the Proud Partner of the Dulwich Festival Artists' Open House. This year, we are hosting a collaborative exhibition at 35 Alleyn Park with artists Jonathan McCree, Ian Robinson and Serena Rowe, who are also parents at the school - see pages 28-29.

We look forward to welcoming you.

The Tipping Point

HOSTED BY BELL HOUSE 27 COLLEGE ROAD SE21 7BG

Ceramics; fine art; photography; prints; sculpture; textiles

The tipping point may arrive seemingly out of the blue as a slight change heralding a new way forward. It can be magical or malevolent. More than 40 artists in six individually curated spaces will examine different kinds of tipping points, both minor and major, literal and metaphorical. The boundaries may be blurred and hard to recognise or individual and diverse. Using painting, photography, ceramics, film, printmaking, sculpture and installation processes the artists will explore this theme from subtle metamorphoses to irreversible defining moments. This multi-disciplinary approach will investigate different ideas of what is a tipping point and whether it is always bad.

MAYHosted by Dulwich Prep London

35 ALLEYN PARK SE21 8AT

Fine art; sculpture

Dulwich Prep London, soon to be Dulwich Prep & Senior from September 2024, is delighted to be the Proud Partner of Artists' Open House for the second year running.

This year, the school will host a collaborative exhibition at 35 Alleyn Park featuring three artists, Jonathan McCree, Ian Robinson and Serena Rowe, also parents of children at the school.

The three diverse artist practices are complemented by pupil work made in workshops led by the artists and a documentary film researched and produced by the children in response to the artists' work.

With the educational setting at its heart, the exhibition of painting, drawing, sculpture and film presents a range of art practice pathways and possibilities and, with the support of the school's Art Department, demonstrates how pupils have been encouraged to explore new experiences in their own work.

Serena Rowe

Serena Rowe is a British figurative artist whose work is founded on direct observations from Nature. She uses still life painting as a portal to explore feelings and ideas around mortality, memory and female experience.
